The unmissable

in Marne & Gondoire

Follow the bronze trail markers in Lagny-sur-Marne

Lagny-sur-Marne is a medieval town, a shopping centre and an artistic hub with the charm of a vibrant, welcoming provincial town. As you walk up the pedestrianised street lined with shops, you will reach the heart of the old medieval town. This is where you can take a journey through history, from the town's origins around 650 AD to the present day... Follow the bronze plaques on the pavement as you travel through time. Be sure to visit the abbey church of Notre-Dame des Ardents and the former convent buildings that now house the town hall. Fancy a coffee or a freshly squeezed juice? Take a seat outside one of the cafés in the Place de la Fontaine, before enjoying the many flavours of the market. And when the sun is at its peak, enjoy the shady banks of the River Marne, or take a stroll to the Foucher de Careil square, just a stone's throw from the pier, where your little ones can safely run around, lie in the grass and have fun in the playground.

Walk or cycle along the Marne

The Marne is the longest river in France, and it flows over several kilometres in Marne & Gondoire, so there are plenty of opportunities for a stroll. Walk or cycle along the riverbank and admire the flora, which changes so dramatically with the seasons. This is where the river birds find refuge. You will most certainly see cormorants diving down to catch their meal or dry their wings in the sun. The riverbanks have been rehabilitated from Dampmart – where you can take the footbridge and enjoy a breathtaking view of the river – to Pomponne.

And if you don't want to walk or cycle, take the bus! It's a simple, low-carbon option. To make the journey more fun and informative, the Tourist Office has put together a special experience for you on the Baludik app (page 12).

Picnic in the Parc culturel de Rentilly-Michel Chartier

A unique place that combines nature and art, the Parc Culturel is a haven for nature lovers, performance enthusiasts, art buffs, the curious, the young, the not-so-young... Friends meet up for picnics in the shade of a sequoia, and they will soon be able to have lunch in the Orangerie restaurant (works are underway). Visitors can explore the different areas: the castle, covered in mirrors by the artist Xavier Veilhan, houses the intercommunal museum and high-quality exhibitions; the trophy room and the Turkish baths – now a charming library devoted to art, architecture and botany –, as well as the gardens, are perfect for reading and spending time together, playing games or taking part in a workshop; the performing arts area hosts shows and various conferences. Every cultural season is full of exciting moments. Ask for the programme!

Guided tours are organised throughout the year to discover the town, its secrets and its mysteries.

There are plenty of events for all ages: shows, exhibition tours, workshops... not to mention some fifty hectares of parkland to run around in. There's always something fun, interesting, unusual or instructive to do in the Parc culturel de Rentilly!

Making bread at Moulin Russon

Come and learn about the history of the Moulin Russon, the only water mill from the 17th century still in operation in the Île-de-France region! First modernised in 1852 with an English gear system that transformed it into a small flour mill, it ceased to operate in 1911 before being restored to its former glory in 2004.

The Moulin Russon will reveal all its secrets during educational and entertaining guided tours: from the astonishing mechanism devised by our ancestors to its colourful, modern layout, right down to the bread on your plate...

Be sure to take home your pack of home-made flour, made in the traditional way on site by qualified millers. You can use it to make your own bread at home and enjoy it with the Brie Yère cheese you bought from the Saint-Thibault farm.

The Mill offers a wide range of events throughout the year (workshops, guided tours, games, educational walks, etc.).

Try your hand at water skiing at the Île de Loisirs in Jablines

This 500-hectare green haven offers a wide range of leisure and sporting activities: supervised swimming, sailing, horse-riding, waterskiing, pedalos, hiking, archery... A colourful prospect for your holidays or weekends!

To make the most of your stay in the heart of nature while enjoying a range of outdoor activities, two types of accommodation are available: the 3-star International Campsite, where you can pitch your tent on one of the 150 pitches or rent a mobile home, and La Maison du Grand Lac, with its breathtaking view over the lake.

The Broce, Dormeur du Val and Île Mystérieuse ponds in Bussy-Saint-Georges are just some of the places where you can catch (and release) various species such as roach, perch, carp and pike.

The Marne is also a great fishing ground for zander, ruffe and crucian carp... unless you prefer to try your luck with the common carp at the Étang de la Taffarette in Ferrières.

Before you start fishing, you should get in touch with the local management association or the Fédération de Seine-et-Marne pour la Pêche et la Protection du Milieu Aquatique (Seine-et-Marne Federation for Fishing and Protection of the Aquatic Environment) to find out about the regulations in force.

L'Hameçon de Dampmart (AAPPMA)

The Brosse and Gondoire valleys

These heritage-listed valleys are an open invitation to take a stroll. In the south-west of Marne & Gondoire, they surround the Brosse and Gondoire streams. As you follow the trails, you can observe the characteristic wildlife of wetlands. You will find no less than 38 hectares of meadows, 11 km of footpaths, almost as many cycle paths and 4 km of bridleways. A real treat for lovers of the great outdoors!

The Parc du Génitoy in Bussy-Saint-Georges

The Parc du Génitoy, a green oasis in the town centre, is one of the Buxangeorgians' favourite places to stroll and relax on sunny days. There, you can fish in the Île Mystérieuse pond or enjoy the traditional fireworks display on 13th July.

What is your nature ?

The Parc de Rentilly in Bussy-Saint-Martin

The English landscape park features Atlas cedars, giant sequoias, ginkgos biloba and purple beech trees, from the main gate to the castle facades. Extending from the castle, a 350-metre-long French-style perspective offers a gorgeous view downwards. Finally, to the west of the estate, you will find the forest, which is still home to a few roe deer. In spring, you can pick wild garlic for your cooking. Ask for the Rentilly Tree Booklet to find out more and set off on some lovely walks that you can top off with a nice picnic!

Access : rue de l'étang (parking) ou rue de Guermantes 77600 Bussy-Saint-Martin

The banks of the Marne

The banks of the river are always great places to walk or cycle. Get close to the water, watch the swans and cormorants, and be inspired as the famous painters Paul Cézanne and Camille Pissarro once were... Nine of Marne & Gondoire's towns and villages border the river, offering a wealth of walking opportunities : Chalifert, Jablines, Lesches, Montévrain, Dampmart, Thorigny-sur-Marne, Lagny-sur-Marne, Pomponne and Saint-Thibault-des-Vignes.

The Nature Park at Lagny-sur-Marne

This riverside area has recently been redeveloped so that nature can flourish, and the wildlife and flora can thrive, making it an ideal place for a stroll. A wide path runs alongside the river all the way to Rue du Chariot d'or, a street in Lagny-sur-Marne near the Marne banks

Access : 115 quai de la Gourdine 77400 Lagny-sur-Marne

The Parc des Frênes in Montévrain

Formerly used for agricultural crops, it was returned to its original function as a green space in 1995. The Parc des Frênes, located in the neighbourhood of the same name, offers 22 hectares of open space, including a sports area and a children's playground. With the Bicheret stream running through it, the park features several ponds where you might spot a few amphibians. You will see several ashes (a tree it got its name from, ash is frêne in French).

Access : in front of 2 avenue François Mitterrand 77144 Montévrain

Cedar Park in Conches sur Gondoire

The park is home to cedars, black pines, hornbeams, maples and ashes. Its ornamental ponds give it a special charm that appeals to painters, whose easels you will probably see along the way.

Acces : rue Ferraille 77400 Gouvernes

Taffarette pond in Ferrières-en-Brie

Behind the lovely Saint Rémy church, you will find the park bordering the Taffarette pond. It's a pleasant walk that will allow you to see the former laundry of the impressive Château de Ferrières. Oh, and you can also borrow a bike at the other end of the pathway (it's free!).

Access : behind the church 77164 Ferrières-en-Brie

The Vallières forest in Dampmart

It's a prime site for bats! But it's also a great place to take a walk along the banks of the River Marne, in an area that is not open to navigation (apart from a few canoes) and is therefore untamed.

Access : Vallières Regional Forest car park Road D418 77410 Annet-sur-Marne

La Maison de la Nature

It is the place to learn about sustainable development, discover composting techniques or simply enjoy the 6,000 m<sup>2</sup> experimental garden! The eco-location coordinators are here for you on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

maisondelanature@marneetgondoire.fr Access : 3 allée du château d'eau 77164 Ferrières-en-Brie

Ferrières Regional Forest

The Ferrières forest is a vast wooded area that once belonged to religious communities and then, until 1973, to the famous de Rothschild family. It stretches from the castle to the Maison de la Nature. Its broad paths and a GR (long-distance hiking trail) make for great walks, during which you can pick chestnuts or lily of the valley, depending on the season. You might come across a roe deer, a sika deer, a rabbit, a fox, or even a wild boar, not to mention the numerous species of birds and insects.

Did you know that nettles, often regarded as weeds, are packed with nutrients and offer an environmentally friendly and local alternative? Turn them into pesto for a tasty, sustainable condiment.

“Who knows? Joan of Arc's sword known as the legendary sword of Fierbois and once owned by Charles Martel, was always with her throughout her battles. On her last visit to Lagny, she left without it. Said to be divine, this sword attracted a great deal of attention. But no one has ever found it. Is it still in Lagny?”

Château du Parc culturel de Rentilly - Michel Chartier

In the park, the various species and majestic trees are reflected in the Château de Rentilly. A few years ago, artist Xavier Veilhan came up with an astonishing piece of architecture. Veilhan chose to clad the façade in mirror-polished stainless-steel panels, giving it its unique personality.

The collections of the Gatien-Bonnet Museum in Lagny-sur-Marne moved to the castle in 2021 and are showcased through temporary exhibitions that will appeal to adults and children alike.

The Château de Jossigny bears witness to the architecture of the "maisons de plaisance" (pleasure palaces and country houses) built in the 18th century. Now managed by the CMN (public institution under the authority of the Ministry of Culture), it is open for events such as the European Heritage Days. In the communal areas, 12 craftsmen have taken up residence and are displaying their work. Be sure to check the calendar of events on the website.

L'Esplanade des religions
 Buddhists, Christians, Jews and Muslims are all here, on this esplanade, which is worth the visit as the proximity of these different places of worship is unique. A fine example of harmony in diversity, it brings together a Taiwanese pagoda, Fo Guang Shan (the largest Buddhist pagoda in Europe), a Laotian pagoda, a mosque, a synagogue and, soon, a Hindu temple. Just a stone's throw away, the modern church of Notre-Dame du Val overlooks the Dormeur du Val pond, and in the heart of the old village, you can find the Saint-Georges church, built in 1595.

Les Villages de Caractère: Picturesque villages

Some would say these villages are "unpretentious", but charming. This is where history is recounted by the wash house or at the corner of an alleyway, and where the local council works to preserve not only the environment but also the local heritage. These are the "Villages de Caractère de Seine-et-Marne". They include Carnetin and Lesches. Seize this opportunity to stroll through the undergrowth, pedal down the Dhuyes, or simply slumber in front of the fireplace of an old gritstone house. It's time to live to the beat of your own heart, in unison with our Villages de Caractère.

Carnetin
 With its 450 inhabitants, Carnetin is the smallest village in Marne & Gondoire, but also the highest (125 m above sea level!).
 At the foot of the belvedere, you can enjoy an exceptional panoramic view that you can comprehend using the orientation table. Did you know that 90% of the village is made up of natural or landscaped areas where you can enjoy a walk and recharge your batteries? Holiday cottages and guesthouses offer you the chance to take a break from the hustle and bustle of the city and enjoy a truly Brie-style break.
 Use the free Baludik app to tag along with "Roubert Mattar the pigeon in the streets of Carnetin" and discover the village's heritage with your family.

Lesches
 Nestled in the meandering Marne, the small village of Lesches has retained its rural identity just a stone's throw from the major tourist centres. Its large, protected natural areas will delight forest hiking lovers and birdwatchers. In the heart of this Village de Caractère, be sure to walk into the church of Notre-Dame de Lesches. The Notre-Dame church Built in the 18th century, this church is remarkable for its interior frescoes. The Notre-Dame de l'Assomption church has come to be known as the "Sistine Chapel of Lesches", as all the walls and vaults are covered in figurative paintings: 235 biblical scenes from the Old and New Testaments, plus a small chapel off to the right depicting the life of Mary, mother of Jesus.

The association is at your disposal for this unique visit to 07 67 43 35 73.

 Numerous events are organised throughout the year. Check out the quarterly "Sortir en Marne & Gondoire" brochure.

Nicole Michigan, who painted the frescoes in the Lesches church, also painted the vault in the Chanteloup-en-Brie church, which houses the oldest bell in Seine-et-Marne.

Discover the local produce

The Sunday morning market is an essential part of life in Lagny-sur-Marne.

It's a tradition that goes back to the great Champagne Fairs. Back then, the town was teeming with European buyers and sellers. Boats docked at the marketplace to unload spices, fabrics and livestock. Centuries later, a herb market was set up near the fountain. Others came and went: the pig market on Place de la Victoire and the poultry market on Place de l'Hôtel de Ville.

What happened, then, on the Place du Marché au blé, you might ask? It was the public square. As late as the 19th century, it housed the wheat market and a pillory...

The town used to come alive on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. These markets have survived the centuries and are still around. Monday has simply been replaced by Sunday, but the hustle and bustle is still the same!

My eco-friendly habits on holiday, weekend breaks and excursions

We are all responsible for our environment, so wherever we are in the world, let's be ecologically responsible:

- I sort my rubbish in my accommodation.
- I find out about recycling facilities and waste collection centres.
- I reduce my energy and water consumption (I remember to turn everything off when I head out).
- I use baskets or tote bags for my shopping (I avoid plastic bags - even the so-called compostable ones - which tend to end up in the bin).
- I respect the environment and don't drop cigarette butts or litter on the ground.
- Travelling with your dog?

Ask for the "Toutourisme guide" to make your stay easier (toutou is a pet in French).

- I respect the environment when I'm with my pet: the Tourist Office has been awarded the «Toutourisme» label, I can get free dog poop bags at the Lagny-sur-Marne Tourist Office, and I can find out about the areas dedicated to dogs.
- I try to find out more about eco-friendly means of transport and make them my first choice. There are charging stations for electric vehicles in Marne & Gondoire, and I can find out where they are located.
- When walking or hiking, I respect the natural environment, I use a reusable water bottle and I take my rubbish with me.
